Superb Period Home

Somerset, England, UK

Winner of Visit England's Gold Award for Outstanding Quality of Accommodation and Customer Service (2011), the property is a superb period home set in 22 acres of Somerset countryside.

Owned by one family for 400 years, the house has been home to explorers, adventurers, sailors, authors, politicians and philanthropists, including the founder of national UK children's charity, ICAN. Paintings, antiques, papers, photographs and 5000 books reflect family history. Yet it is completely informal – just a much-loved, special home, looked after by a dedicated team who pride themselves on exceptional guest care.

There is a Library (seats 12), large Drawing Room, Dining Room, Breakfast Room, farmhouse-style Kitchen, Scullery and Laundry.

The house is non profit-making. All revenues are ploughed back into the estate so that it may be enjoyed by future as well as present generations. The owner/guardian takes nothing out and is unpaid!
