Montgomery Court

OVERVIEW

Montgomery Court is one of the finest houses in South West England which has been in the Montgomery family for 100 years. Steeped in history, the house dates back 700 years to 1300 and has been in the hands of several families. It first started as a medieval hall built by de Moels and the original magnificent roof trusses are visible in several of the rooms today. In the 1580s the large Elizabethan mansion was built by Sir Francis Hastings after leasing the building from his brother, the Earl of Huntingdon. The Bennett family purchased the house in the 1760s in which time they added the ballroom and the very attractive Georgian south façade.

It is now available to rent exclusively as a beautiful venue for weddings and parties sleeping up to 80 guests with use of the spectacular Ballroom and the North Hall, or simply as a luxurious venue for family holidays with plenty of rooms to relax in and take in the lovely countryside views.

Set in rolling countryside on the borders of Somerset, Dorset and Wiltshire, with good access to Yeovil, Bath and Salisbury, and just 2 hours from London, it is in a fabulous location.

All the rooms on the estate have undergone a major refurbishment and redecoration with exquisite designs inspired by artist Binny Matthews and interior designer Pip Scaramanga.
